Foreword

Microcosm, go your way,
Inspire, who greet with pleasure,
Content, if they forgive your faults, who
Read you at their leisure.
Or if your poetry and song
Can make one feel the brighter,
Or pictures of our friends and class,
Some comrade's heart make lighter,
Microcosm, go your way.

1915 Class Song

Words by
Dorothy Throssell

Music by Ruth Haggood.

Sing girls of nineteen fif- teen      Cheer for the green and white

For our class shall stand forever      for the good and the true the right

Some classes may be larger      Some classes may be small

But Tenth of nineteen fifteen is the      very, very best of all.

The Spirit of 1915

United by work and play,
Strengthened by joy and sorrow,
Ennobled by love and loyalty,
Ready to surmount all with the crown of service,
Stands Nineteen Fifteen.

GLADYS COOK ABBOTT

"So saying, with despatchful looks in haste,
She turns, on hospitable thoughts intent."

All that you have to do to prove it is to attend a
Maine Club tea.

Bridgton, Maine.

Mandolin Club (2, 3, 4), Vice-President Maine Club (3).
Household Economics.

HELEN CHARLOTTE ALDRICH

Here is "the proper friend-making, friend-finding soul," with warm affection, wide sympathy, ready wit, and a keen sense of humor, not to speak of a fondness for bright color and a constant fear of entertaining a blue card. Her very complete justification for this absurdity is, "I might have received one if I had, but I didn't."

47 Mt. Bowdoin Terrace, Dorchester, Mass.

Household Economics.

ANITA MAE ALLEN

"It is as though you had touched a loyal hand, looked into brave eyes, and made a noble friend."

567 Beach Street, Manchester, N. H.

Mandolin Club (1, 2, 3, 4), Leader (3, 4), Executive Committee (1), Class President (2), Chairman Endowment Fund Committee (4), President New Hampshire Club (4),
MICROCOSM Board (4), Student Council (3), Guild Council (3).

THE MICROCOSM

FRANCES NEWKIRK ALLEY

"The basis of her character was good, sound common-sense, trodden down and smoothed by education."

66 Tompkins Street, Cortland, N. Y.
Household Economics.

HARRIET CODDING AMES

Never in a hurry,
Never has a care,
Never known to worry,
Beloved everywhere.

117 Grove Street, North Attleboro, Mass.
Choir (2, 3, 4), Student Government Council (4).
Library Science.

EDITH VIOLA ANDERSON

"A beauteous maiden resplendent as the morning sun beaming with golden hair." And there is pure gold in her nature, too, in her sincerity, kindness and generosity.

961 Hyde Park Avenue, Boston, Mass.
Choir (1).
Secretarial Studies.

ALICE EVERETT BABSON

"Her plain, simple name
Meant nothing at all, until after you
Had seen her——"

And then it meant efficiency and an unlimited capacity for doing the things she was interested in.

121 Mt. Pleasant Avenue, Gloucester, Mass.
Household Economics.

DOROTHY NEALES BAKER

"'Tis not in mortals to command success,
But I'll do more, I'll deserve it."

The poet must have been thinking of you when he wrote that, Dot, but along with it, we are glad to see you have profited by the motto, "All work and no play, makes Jack a dull boy."

40 Cranston Avenue, Newport, R. I.
Secretarial Studies.

MARGARET ELIZABETH BATCHELLER

Here's an independent bachelor maiden,
With knowledge and wisdom heavily laden,
And she's generous, too, as a body can be,
And well liked everywhere, we'll all agree.

RUBY WAINWRIGHT BATEMAN

"He that hath knowledge, spareth his words."

868 Fifth Street, South Boston, Mass.
Social Work.

MILDRED MAY BENT

"Whose simple lives, complete and without flaw,
Were part and parcel of great nature's law. . . .

Beloved in their sphere as those who live
In the delight that work alone can give."

66 Allen Avenue, Lynn, Mass.
Choir (2, 3, 4), Glee Club (3, 4).
Secretarial Studies.

GLADYS MAUDE BIGELOW

We all know we shall never forget Biggy's smiling countenance, but we feel that she "would leave behind the portrait of her spirit, rather than the portrait of her face."

St. Alban's, Maine.
Executive Committee (4).

SIGNELD KAREN BORGESON

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

905 Willow Street, Oakland, Cal.
Household Economics.

MARGARET ELEANORE BRANN

"There is a certain something in your looks,
A certain scholar-like and studious something—
You understand—which cannot be mistaken."

348 State Street, Bangor, Maine.
Musical Association (2, 3, 4), Business Manager Mandolin
Club (4).
Secretarial Studies.

THE MICROCOSM

MILDRED BLANCHE BROWN

In the halls of Simmons College
Struts a Senior long and thin,
If you think she's very serious
You'll be mightily taken in.

For this young woman named Brownie—
Has a funny streak so keen
That she convulses people with laughter,
She's the funniest in '15.

A more comfortable sort of person
You'd have hard work to find,
Untroubled by time, her temper,
Untroubled by study, her mind.

Groton, Mass.
Basketball (1).
Household Economics.

M. PRUDENCE BROWN

"But a smooth and steadfast mind,
Gentle thoughts and calm desires;
Hearts with equal love combined,
Kindle never-dying fires."

1263 West 10th Street, Riverside, Cal.
Household Economics.

MARIAN PROCTOR CARTLAND

"Yet was it ne'er my fate from thee to find
A deed ungentle or a word unkind."

41 Spring Street, Saco, Maine.
President Maine Club (4).
Secretarial Studies.

THE MICROCOSM

ISABELLE LUCETTA CHAFFIN

"We find talents that we respect and virtues that we admire," combined with a thoroughly unselfish nature. What would 318 do without her?

12 Fiske Street, Worcester, Mass.
Library Science.

MARGARET MORTON CLARK

"She's calm, deliberate, dignified, leisurely," and with it all, one of those rare people one calls a friend.

195 Mill Street, Haverhill, Mass.
Secretary Student Government (3), Student Government Council (4).
Library Science.

DOROTHY MARY CLARKE

"The sweetest lady that ever I looked upon."

Jefferson, Mass.
Executive Committee (4).
Household Economics.

EVELINE BAXTER COOK

Sing a Song of Sewing
Stitches ever neat
By a maiden handy,
Who is ever sweet.

Dresses, hats and flowers
Of every kind and shade,
All with hands so skillful
Each in turn are made.

29 Lamartine Street, Jamaica Plain, Mass.
Household Economics.

HELEN CRAWFORD

When you see a group of three upon the stair,
Or some maidens swapping stories anywhere—
Hear a ripple and a titter,
And a quite engaging twitter,
You'll be sure to find at least two Helens there.

29 Essex Street, Cambridge, Mass.
Secretarial Studies.

M. GENEVIEVE CRAWLEY

"As clever as she wills."

9 Summit Street, Gloucester, Mass.

ELLEN SHEPHERD DANIELS

"Trusty, dusky, vivid, true,
With eyes of gold and bramble-dew,
Steel-true and blade-straight."

45 Prospect Street, Fitchburg, Mass.
Student Conduct Committee (2), Mandolin Club (2, 3), Manager Mandolin Club (3), Class Treasurer (3), President
Y.W.C.A. (4), Guild Council (4), Student Government Council (4).
Household Economics.

MILDRED ANGIE DAVIS

Mildred's always so serene,
Why do others worry?
It is plainly to be seen
She will never hurry.

A million things, or more, to do,
Leave her undisturbed.
Why can't we be like that, too?
Why are we perturbed?

Alton Bay, N. H.
Glee Club and Choir (2, 3, 4).
Household Economics.

THE MICROCOSM

THERESA MATHILDE DAY

Tripping o'er the Fenway scarcely anyone can tell
 Whether she's a student or a society belle,
 A bag she scorns to carry, 'tis too heavy, don't you see?
 And then again at half-past four, it may be time for tea.

But pray do not misjudge her,
 Good work she's always done,
 And when it's time to do the grind
 She always "chucks" the fun.

68 Homestead Street, Roxbury, Mass.
 Household Economics.

LOUISE JULIA DELANO

It's impossible to ruffle her,
 Her calmness doth amaze.
 For in spite of all our College hustling,
 "She keeps the even tenor of her ways."

91 Takola Street, Dorchester, Mass.
 Library Science.

GLADYS LORD DIXON

She came to us from Wellesley
 With neither frown nor fuss.
 Now we're glad she changed her mind
 And came to smile on us.

73 Dana Street, Cambridge, Mass.
 Library Science.

THE MICROCOSM

CAROLYN FRANCES DODGE

If you feel in the blues,
And the world seems upset,
There's a cure for the illness,
Which has never failed yet:
Have a long talk with "Dodgie."
('Twould make a Sphinx laugh)
And her jokes and good cheer
Will drive off trouble like chaff.

4 Whittier Road, Wellesley, Mass.
Executive Committee (1).
General Science.

LAURA LYDIA DORING

She makes up her mind by instinct,
Her reasons are "just because——"
Her opinions are more than half feelings
And defy any rational laws.
But strangely enough, as you listen
To those opinions which you think wrong,
Comes the feeling that she is right
And you are won to her side ere long.
So here's to her intuitions,
And down with logic's laws.
We, too, will follow our instincts,
Our reason? Just because——.

21 Ellsworth Avenue, Cambridge, Mass.
Mandolin Club (1, 2, 4), Literary Editor, Persimmons (4).

FRANCES TRACY DWYER

A paradox! A paradox!
Though fast she walks,
And faster talks,
She always lags
Behind the clocks,
And 'tis most strange to say,
Though Speed itself
Her swiftness mocks,
She's late most every day.

GERTRUDE ELIZABETH TOMPSON

"At home or abroad there was peace in her smile,
A cheerful good nature that needed no guile."

86 Spring Street, Portland, Maine.
Secretarial Studies.

CHRISTINA TOROSSIAN

"The time is come, the Walrus said,
To talk of many things."
If Christine had been there, she would surely have led
The talk to the source whence Philosophy springs;
For "The Purpose of Life" and "The Causes of Strife"
Are the subjects to which she most frequently swings.

288 Washington Avenue, Chelsea, Mass.
General Science.

A. REBECCA TURNER

"But the one worth while
Is the one who can smile,
When everything goes dead wrong."
And that is the best that any of us can do.

31 Woburn Street, Reading, Mass.
Household Economics.

THE MICROCOSM

MARY LILLIAN TURNER

Lillian's never known to boast
Of her deeds, her knowledge or marks,
But we find in all three
She is better than most,
Why, bless us, she's one of the sharks.

Worcester Street, Wellesley, Mass.
General Science.

MARJORIE TILTON UNDERWOOD

"He is only a well-made man who has a good determination," and surely that applies to a woman, too, Marjorie. We admire your steadfastness of purpose and earnest efforts to get the best there is in learning.

6 Longwood Terrace, Boston, Mass.
Class Vice-President (3).
Library Science.

ANNE TERESA UPHAM

"If to her share some woman's errors fall,
But know her worth, and you'll forget them all."

124 Cross Street, Keene, N. H.
Class President (1), Basketball (1), Choir (1, 2, 3), Mandolin Club (3, 4).
Household Economics.

1915

RUTH ELIZABETH VORIES

"The talent of success is nothing more than doing well whatever you do."

401 W. 18th Street, Pueblo, Colorado.
Choir (1, 2, 3), Chairman Vesper Committee (4).
Household Economics.

HAZEL HARRIET WAVLE

"How can I paint thee as thou art,
So fair in face, so warm in heart."

43 Irving Street, Cambridge, Mass.
Household Economics.

LILLIAN ALETHIA WAVLE

"A daughter of the gods, divinely tall, and most divinely fair."

38 Church Street, Portland, N. Y.
Household Economics.

LOUISE RICHMOND WHITCOMB

"Within her eye
The Heaven of April, with its changing light,
And when it wears the blue of May, is hung,
And on her lip the rich red rose."

Holbrook, Mass.
Household Economics.

MARIE WHITE

Marie is known by everyone
A bout our country-side;
R ighting all our many wrongs,
I n trouble, she's our guide—
E ach one of us knows that!

W hatever woes you have today
H er smile will cheer you, right away;
I f you are out for fun, howe'er,
T ake notice, "White" will be right there—
E ach one of us knows that!

Cookville, Tenn.
Executive Committee (1), Student Government Council (2),
Honor Committee (3), President of Student Government
(4), Guild Council (4), President Dixie Club (4).
Household Economics.

ELIZABETH MAE WILLIAMS

Betty's always busy,
Does she never rest?
In everything she touches
She's among the best.

19 Clark Street, Concord, N. H.
Secretarial Studies.

PAULINE MARGARET YAGER

She likes the birds, but not the dogs,
I don't know how she feels toward frogs,
She has a weakness, though, for tea
And company,—say, you and me.
She likes to know just when and where,
And why,—quite like a Questionnaire,
And though her mind is very set,
A better friend you never met.

The Student Guild

Some of the things considered by the Council of the Guild this year are the new Treasury System; an improvement in the present point system, a change in the name of the Guild and the election of the chairman of the Council, the organization of a monthly magazine, and the promotion of a finer spirit of coöperation and unity in the entire student body.

Through the influence of the Council it is hoped that there may develop the custom of giving the work of all organizations and committees greater publicity. Members of classes and clubs cannot be expected to be interested if they have no general knowledge of affairs under consideration by the officers of the organization. Perhaps what most of all the Council wishes this year is to see the entire body of students working together harmoniously with a friendly feeling toward all. The increased number of social affairs has given an added opportunity for becoming acquainted. The spirit of coöperation, which results from working and playing together, will inevitably develop a firm bond of unity in our student life.

The Endowment Fund

From the first day that college opened it was evident that there was a new spirit among the students — a spirit which was bent upon increasing the Endowment Fund and gaining new dormitories as soon as possible. The students added $127 to the total by undertaking small tasks such as doing errands, cleaning, washing, pressing, typewriting, and selling small wares and sandwiches. The organizations came to the front and gave numerous entertainments and benefits: the Senior day girls made $53 by selling Christmas cards; the Juniors added $25; the Sophomores gave $75 of the proceeds from their play; the New York State Club and Dixie Club earned $35 each by entertainments; and the Ohio State Club made $100 on the Tech Glee Club concert, which was given under their auspices. The total amount received by the committee February 1, is $450. The Glee Club Concert and other entertainments which come this spring are expected to increase this sum considerably.

Student Government

Student Government! What a world of meaning in those two words. How hard we are all trying to make them mean all they should, and since no effort for good is ever unproductive, we are glad to be able to say that we see the meaning in a fair way to be fully realized in a very short time now.

Student Government has been extended to all of the affiliated houses this year, making a total of fifteen buildings in which it is the ruling power. The spirit of coöperation among all the girls has been most helpful, and has been appreciated by the Council, which is the legislative body. Above everything else, we are trying this year to instil into each girl the idea that she is responsible for her own conduct and that by each one doing her part, we will be able to have Student Government in the most complete meaning of the word. Since the Intercollegiate Student Government Conference was held at Radcliffe this year, we were given the privilege of having visiting delegates at both the open and closed sessions, which has proved to be such a help and inspiration to us all this year. We feel very proud of the fact that the double office of vice-president and secretary of the Intercollegiate Student Government Association has been given to us for the next year.

Y. W. C. A.

A college aims to develop an individual intellectually, socially, physically, and spiritually. In a college where the trend is largely toward practical and material things, there is the danger of neglecting the more immaterial needs of the individual. In its purpose "to deepen the spiritual life of the student," the Young Women's Christian Association endeavors to fill a need.

The Association has held weekly devotional meetings to which all students have been most cordially invited. Instructors, outside speakers and students have led for us. These meetings have furnished one means of welding the members of the Association into a closer union. Courses in Bible and Mission Study have been given this year, providing an opportunity for expression as well as impression. Two publications, "The Association Monthly" and "The North American Student," may be found in the library by all those who are interested.

The Association, furthermore, stands for service. We were fortunate this year in having held at Simmons an Occupational Conference. At this Conference, glimpses were given of openings in Association work. Several girls are now doing social service work by teaching English to classes of Lithuanians. The Association also strives to encourage the spirit of sociability. During the days of registration in the fall, and during the Mid-year Examination period, teas were held in the Students' Room. The Freshmen were welcomed at the beginning of the year at an informal party. A meeting was held in the fall to represent Silver Bay in panorama and to depict the different phases of life at the Conference. The six Simmons girls present at the Conference in June gained much inspiration and enthusiasm. It is hoped that a far larger number may attend this summer.

The New Simmons Magazine

When in England last year, we saw a reprint of the magazine issued by the Scott Antarctic Expedition during the months spent in winter quarters, before the dash to the South Pole. The contents of these magazines were a revelation to the world. The world was surprised that such a rich array of material could be gathered from so few and in such bleak surroundings. The pages of the magazines were replete with choice bits of prose and poetry, pen-and-ink sketches, wit and humor, that good wit and humor that is the spice, not the sting, of life. This magazine brought forth gems from unsuspected sources, gave the party a solidarity, an esprit de corps, good cheer and kind fellowship that could have come to the pilgrims and prisoners of the night in no other way.

The students of Simmons, though not prisoners in an icy barren, nor pilgrims in a six months sunless night, are for four formative years segregated in part from the world and home. Much is done by the kindly influences set in motion in the several living Halls, by the words of counsel and cheer from the President, the Dean and others, to encourage the student body to cherish high ideals, to fit them for high and efficient service. Yet to make characters strong and abiding, the growing mind and soul must exhort its powers in some independent way.

The College Magazine will afford, in part, an opportunity for this exercise of the higher mental and spiritual powers. In it the long, long thoughts of youth may find expression. The English instructor's injunction to write "the speech, as I pronounced it to you, trippingly" on the pen, may be obeyed, and, maybe, improved. The dormant talent and genius among the thousand and one students may awake to life on the pages of the magazine. Above and beyond these uses, the magazine, conducted on a high and lofty plane, can unify and crystallize that which is best in all the varied student interests and activities, and hand down to each succeeding student generation a tradition of lofty ideal and purpose.

The critical period of the magazine will be its first year. If wrongly begun, it is doomed to failure; if rightly begun, it will "grow from more to more" and become a permanent help to student and Alma Mater. At first then, all kindly advice and counsel should be sought from those who have the deep interests of the college at heart. The pages of the magazine should be filled with the best things, things of good report, things of joy and gladness and good humor, only those things that strengthen and sweeten human hearts, that make hands quicker for service, that fortify souls against suffering and despair. The magazine should reflect a ray here and there from the blue above, should inspire to deeds that shall be wrought into untarnishable gold.

State Clubs

You cannot be in College long before you begin to realize that you are getting much more out of it than the mere technical instruction you have come to receive. The College catalog fails to mention geography, as contained in its curriculum, and yet, before you have been in College a month you are quite convinced that Missouri is really central and not bordering on California, as you had always been ready to suppose. The fuzzy-haired girl, who sits next to you in English, lives there and laughed in your face when you innocently asked her if buffaloes ever chased people. Then there is a girl in your physics division who lives in Alabama, and you are perfectly fascinated with her Southern speech, and try to imitate it for at least a week. Suddenly you discover that there is a State Club, your own State, and you attend the first meeting, perhaps because of that comfortable feeling of ownership. You meet someone who knows someone you know, and has just heard from that person. Immediately fellow-feeling appears and spreads until it reaches every member of the Club, and you realize that a State you considered hopelessly large, is really very small indeed. You are amazed to discover that there are eight other State Clubs just as active as your own, and you wish, oh, how you wish, that every State could have a Club and get acquainted. At Christmas time, you tell your chum, who is coming to College next year, about it, and you meet a 1913 girl whom you never knew before, and tell her what the Club is doing and all about the College activities.

So interest is kept alive in our alumnæ, who have gone from us, in ourselves, who are now here, and in the incoming students whom we are glad to welcome. New Hampshire, Maine, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Connecticut have well-organized clubs, while the Dixie Club receives as its members all those who live south of the Mason-Dixon line. Surely this direct effort to promote fellowship and understanding among the students cannot but end in a college spirit that will increase as the years pass.

GLEE CLUB

Musical Association

This year the Musical Association has been reorganized. It now consists of the Choir, Mandolin and Glee Clubs. From these are chosen a President and a Secretary-Treasurer of the Association. Each of the three divisions has a manager and a secretary, elected from its own members. This gives an equal standing to all three parts for the first time, and seems to solve the question of consolidation of the musical interests of the college.

The Choir has faithfully fulfilled its duty in the weekly chapel services. Occasionally friends of the college, or some of the girls, have contributed very pleasing solo work at chapel also. The Glee and Mandolin Clubs have combined to give two concerts, one in the early spring and one at the close of school. Both have been most successful, artistically as well as financially. The College owes a great deal to Miss Mabel Daniels who has had charge of the Choir and Glee Club. Her untiring efforts and real interest have done much to make the work of these organizations successful.

Serenade as she is sung:

We Juniors are always so clever,
We Juniors are always so smart,
We Juniors are always so clever,
Your serenade gave us no start.
Sing on, sing on, sing on, dear Seniors, he, he, he, he,
Sing on, sing on, we're ready as ready can be.

Serenade as she is done:

The Juniors are sleeping so soundly,
The Juniors are having sweet dreams,
Their nice little beds are so downy,
That nothing will wake them, it seems.
Bounce out, bounce out, bounce out, dear Juniors, ha, ha, ha, ha,
Bounce out, bounce out, it's cold—but bounce out as you are.

JUNIOR PROMENADE

The Junior Promenade of the Class of 1915 was held in the Refectory on April 24, 1914. In the receiving line were President Lefavour, Dean Arnold, Miss Frances Rollins Morse, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lamartine

Mark, Miss Jeannie Scott Gloster, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Freeman, Miss Elizabeth May Goodrich, and Miss Alice Livingstone, President of the Class. The members of the Sophomore Class who acted as ushers were Frances Banks, Marjorie Soper, Katharine Leonard, Martha Whiting, Helen Foster, Edith Stearns, Sarah Toll, Ellen Foster, Helen Fagg, Julia Leamy, Helen Giere, Marion Hills, Elizabeth Bouvé, Lucille Hill, Alice Gray, Adele Chandler, Esther Tucker, Muriel Stevens, Eva Jacobi, and Jean Masson.

SOIREE

On the evening succeeding Promenade the class entertained their guests by an informal dance in the reception rooms of North and South Halls. Harriet Putnam was chairman of the committee for refreshments for this occasion and Olive Ruby was chairman of the committee for music.

May Day

The Class of 1916, according to custom, woke their Senior sisters on May morning with merry singing, and escorted the President of the Class of 1914 to the throne prepared for her where, with song and ceremony, they crowned her Queen of the May and pledged to her their faith and loyalty. Then one and all, with much gusto, indulged in the "fine, luscious short-cake, the dee-licious short-cake, the strawberry short-cake that comes once a year!" and with that the festivities ended.

FRESHMAN FROLIC

The ninth of May, at three o'clock,
"Seventeen" dressed in bonnet and frock;
Gay May baskets they bring along;
Within them put a jest and song.
They go to the refectory and romp and play
As only at Freshman Frolic one may.

SOPHOMORE LUNCHEON

The Class of 1916 gathered for their Sophomore Luncheon on May 17. Miss Isabel Hurlbutt acted as toastmistress. Members from the various schools responded as follows:

Athletics
Secretarial School
Household Economics
Library School
General Science
Class of 1916

GERTRUDE HUSSEY
BEULAH KNOWLES
JULIA EDWARDS
ELIZABETH JACOBS
EVA JACOBI
FRANCES BANKS

The luncheon was followed by a short entertainment, including a one-act comedy entitled "The Marriage Market."

The chairmen of the committees for the luncheon were:

Dorothy Inglis
Opal Fisher
Katharine Leonard
Martha Whiting
Emily Webb

JUNIOR SENIOR PICNIC

A real picnic! That's what happened on May 23, 1914. From the time the Juniors and Seniors started forth for Nantasket on the most glorious morning, until the setting sun found us traveling inland, it was a gay, happy, and carefree day.

"Absolutely no, ladies, we can't start the merry-go-round. The season has not begun, the roller-coasters are not working!" Within an hour they were working, and working for all they were worth.

So were the "sand bumps!" This fact brought the only dark spot in the day. One too many slides resulted in a severely sprained ankle for Sarah Findley. In spite of prompt attention and all our sympathy, crutches were her constant companion until Commencement Day.

For the mighty good lunch which we ate gathered in an immense "friendship circle" on the sand, we owe our thanks to our two kind and ever willing friends, Miss Goodrich and Miss Boyd. To the committee, Martha Taft, Anita Allen, Margaret Clark, Harriet Putnam, Gladys Bigelow, and Christine Kane, we give thanks for the successful management of our travels, by land and sea, and for all our jolly good time.

STUDENT GUILD RECEPTION

We had our formal introduction to the three hundred new students on the afternoon of September 26, the first Saturday after the opening of college. Those in the receiving line were:

Nina Mason, Chairman of the Student Guild
President Lefavour
Harriet Putnam, Vice-Chairman
Miss Gloster
Miss Enos
Miss Adams
Miss Diall
Miss Lawrence

After an informal reception, at which the Junior Welcoming Committee acted as ushers, general dancing was enjoyed.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT DANCE

The evening of October 2 was set apart for the first dance of the college year. The Refectory was filled with upper class girls and Freshmen in pretty gowns, the former acting as escorts for the latter.

Those in the receiving line were:

|  |                |
|--|----------------|
| Marie White, President of Student Government | Miss Enos      |
| Miss Walker                                  | Harriet Putnam |
| Miss Blood                                   | Miss Adams     |
| Nina Mason, Vice-President                   | Miss Diall     |
| Miss Gloster                                 | Miss Goodrich  |
| Winona Hyland                                | Miss Boyd      |

Dancing followed the reception.

JUNIOR-FRESHMAN PARTY

The Class of 1916 entertained their Freshman sisters in the refectory on October 17. The entertainment was in the form of a one-ring circus accompanied by all the usual side-shows and refreshment booths. The performance revealed much talent. Madeline Cleveland was chairman of the committee in charge.

SOPHOMORE-SENIOR LUNCHEON

After the tennis tournament on October 24, the Class of 1917 entertained the Class of 1915 at luncheon. During the luncheon songs were sung by each class, and the Sophomores threw green and pink paper streamers in response to each Senior song.

After the luncheon a short entertainment was given in South Hall, followed by informal dancing.

The committee in charge was:

Gladys Donnelly, Chairman
Lillian Beckett
Phoebe Currier
Marion Driscoll
Helen Gillette

HALLOWE'EN

What mean these strange enshrouded forms
That prowl around the night;
Chanting their ghostly, haunting airs
In the weird candle-light?

Now, as they dance with witchlike glee,
Their wild songs they utter,
And o'er a cauldron's livid flame
Their incantations mutter.

Is it the spirit of the dead
That makes this nightly scene?
Oh no, it's just the Sophomores,
A-celebrating Hallowe'en.

DIXIE CLUB PLAY

The Dixie Club gave a bright and amusing farce for the benefit of the Endowment Fund on the evening of October 24. The title of the play was "Leave It to Polly." The cast was:

|   |                   |
|---|-------------------|
| Miss Priscilla Kitten, Principal | LIDA OLIVE        |
| Miss Bedelia Kitten, her sister  | LUCILLE CAWOOD    |

SOPHOMORE PLAY

The Class of 1917 presented two short plays, "Poor Pillicoddy," and "Our Aunt from California," on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, December 12.

"Poor Pillicoddy" was a farce in one act. The cast was:

|                        |                  |
|------------------------|------------------|
| Mr. Pillicoddy  | ANNA JONES       |

| Sarah Blunt     | ABBY PARTRIDGE   |
| Mrs. O'Scuttle  | ROMAYNE MILLIKEN |
| Capt. O'Scuttle | MARY POLLARD     |

The cast of the second play:

|   |           |                 |
|---|-----------|-----------------|
| Felicia Needey                   | } Sisters | MARY McLoughlin |
| Rosalie Needey                   |           | LUCY GATES      |
| Sally Needey                     |           | RUTH FRANCIS    |
| Mrs. Duntoburn, their aunt       |           | MARION DOTEN    |
| Miss Wilcoxngibs, the dressmaker |           | EDNA HAYNES     |
| Mrs. Needey                      |           | ELEANOR GREGORY |
| The Maid                         |           | PEARL MASON     |

During the intermission a recitation was given by Ada Bauer, and a solo by Leah Clark.

The committee in charge was:

MARION CRAIG
ELEANOR KEITH
ESTHER GREGORY
KATHERINE HUNT
BEATRICE BROWN

SENIOR-FRESHMAN PARTY

The Class of 1915 entertained the entering class at tea in the refectory on Saturday, December 5.

The entertainment included "A Freshman's Progress through Simmons," a bright and pointed parody on "The Pilgrim's Progress." Lillian Logan took the part of the Freshman.

Alice Babson acted as chairman of the committee.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

On the night of December 18, according to the olden custom of merrie England, the Lord and Lady of the manor-house entertained at their board the lords and ladies of the country round, together with the priests and nuns and merry carollers who serenaded the guests as they sat at meat.

Miss Winona Hyland acted as lady of the manor, with Miss Helen Fagg as lord. The guests were dressed as befitted lords and ladies of old England, in quaint and charming costumes.

After dinner there was informal dancing.

Hazel Hale was chairman of the committee in charge.

M. I. T. MUSICAL CLUBS CONCERT

The combined musical clubs of "The Massachusetts Institute of Technology" rendered a very pleasing entertainment for the benefit of Simmons College Endowment Fund on January 9, under the auspices of the Ohio Club.

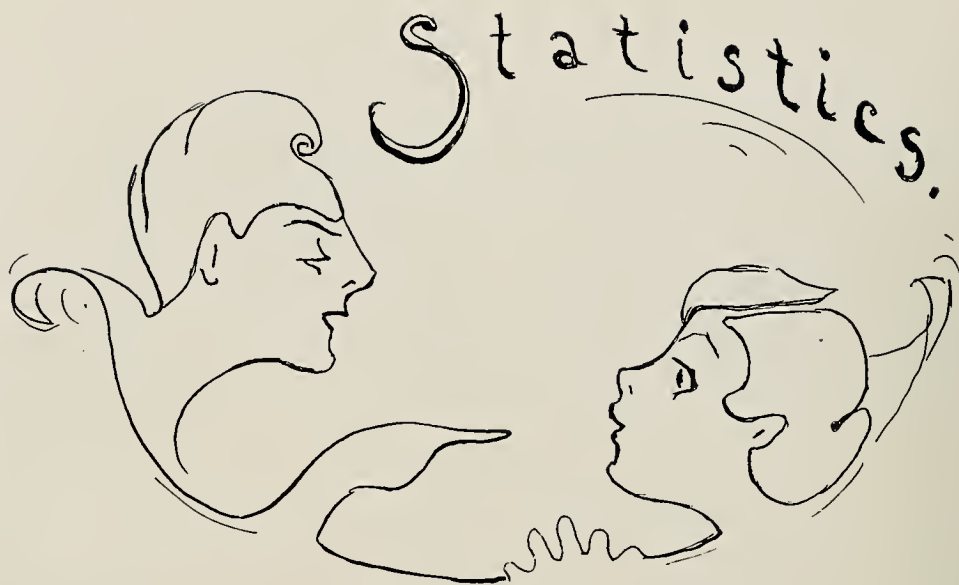

The program was:

"UNDER THE LIME-LIGHT"

strings of her famous borax beads. In her hair there glistened a wonderful burette, studded with lime stones.

The house was magnesiously decorated with flowers of sulphur and uranium, that glistened in the brilliant Bunsen lights. The ball room floor was smoothly polished with dissicator grease and the dance orders engraved on filter paper were most charming.

The guests all arrived in their pneumatic troughs, and were met at the door by a Sargeant.

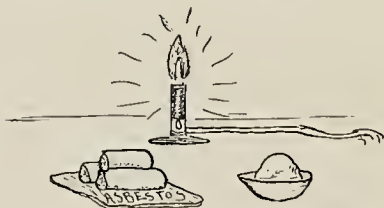

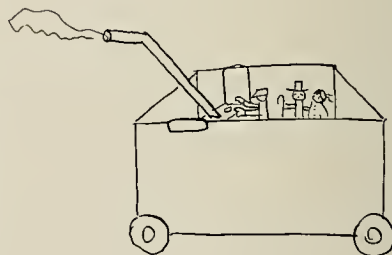

The refreshments and the appointments were perfect. At separate tables, the chlorine water and limonite were served in beakers, provided with delivery tubes, and the calomel ice in evaporating dishes. The aqua regia was kept hot on the steam baths and served in porous cups, while the sulphur rolls on asbestos plates were a delight to the eye.

During the course of the evening, someone was heard to remark, that perhaps it was just as well that they didn't serve Bacon or Cunning Ham, Mark you, but Jacob's son thought that Jack could be happier if they would Grant him More calomel ice, whereupon Jack screamed.

Another interesting event was caused by a graduate with an Nth degree, who insisted on declining a Latin verb:

"Boron, Borax, Borate."

When the stop-watch struck two, the atoms yielded to their chemical affinities, and precipitated out.

THE NAME OF THIS POEM IS "ON THE FENWAY"
AND IT IS CALLED "THE HOLD-UP"

The snow is white with shadows blue,
I grasp my pen, this rhyme to do;
The snow is very cold and white,
The time of day is nearly night,
The wintry winds do howl and blow,
As I said before, there is much snow.
Now, in this setting cold and white,
A thrilling tale I will recite!

The Fenway winds do howl and sigh
Round Mrs. Gardner's palace high;
The sky is dull, the shadows long,
'Tis just after the 4.30 gong;
Two students, each with heavy bag,
Battle the winds with steps that lag.
"Oh, oh, I am held up!" cries one.
Her friend comes to her on the run,
But there is naught to fear, I trust,
For she is held up by the CRUST!

Our Junior year
We find with glee
One afternoon
We have quite free.

But O! how sad!
We must consent
To go that day
To Settlement.

Not only that—
We must come home
To dinner late,
But not alone!

At Christmas
We must celebrate
With things no wise man
Ever ate.

In May
We give them all a chance
In our Fenway
To play and dance.

Then, having done our duty well,
For no one really likes to shirk,
We take a very solemn oath
To deal no more in Social Work.

SIMMONS' KNITTING SONG

TUNE: "The High Cost of Loving"

We knit for the Belgae
We knit for the Belgae
Their plight is so sad
That we are knitting like mad.
We knit with our fingers
We knit with our toes
When we've finished our mufflers
We'll start in on hose.
Every Mary and Lizzy
Is awfully busy
But I am the busiest, By heck!
We knit in a hurry
But oh! I should worry
If it won't fit my poor Belgae's neck.

This thing that we call Simmons,
Where lies the hidden charm
That holds our hearts with iron grip,
Bids us ward off all harm?

For four long years we've striven
Her standards to uphold;
To make this charm a greater thing
For the classes yet untold.

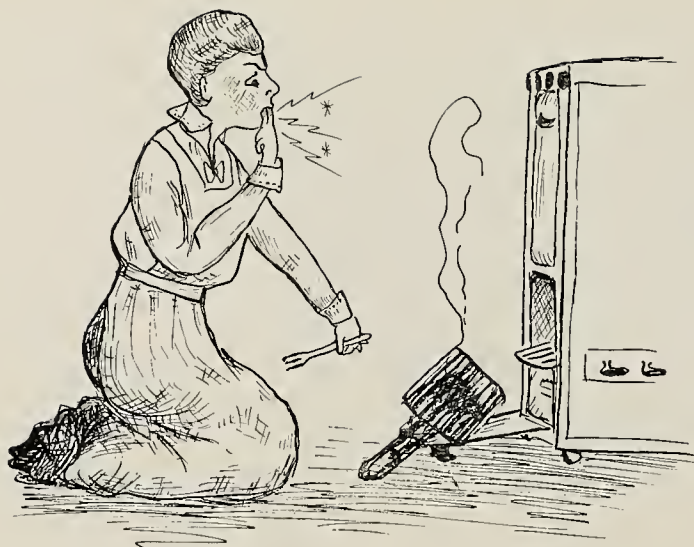

We came and begged admission
To her enchanted life;
We could not know for what we sought,
But our souls were in the strife.

Now, as the golden days slip by,
How should we count our gain?
What can we touch and say in truth,
"These things I had not then."

No campus filled with memories
Have we, to claim our love,
Nor field, nor hill, nor woodland,
With Heaven's blue depths above.

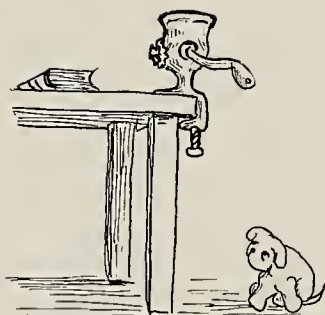

Instead there lives within our hearts
A spirit deep and true,
That cries to us—"All honor bring
To Simmons! 'Tis her due."

Our gains, those greater glories
Life holds in store for all;
Our aim, to answer loyally
To Alma Mater's call.

A MARTYR BURNED AT THE STAKE !

Highly fitting color,
Cards of azure hue—
Flunk card? What effect?
Blue! Who? You!

I don't believe it "grinds!"
I've watched it for half an hour and it hasn't touched that book once!

pup: they said they were dyeing, but they seem quite cheerful about it!

There, little girl, don't cry.
The Physics is hard, I know,
And those queer, queer tasks
With the chemistry flasks
Are long and painfully slow.
But Freshman troubles will soon pass by.
There, little girl, don't cry.

There, little girl, don't cry.
Though you're stuck in Biology
And you've had to learn
That hot ovens burn
Not once, but repeatedly!
The bliss of your Junior days is nigh.
There, little girl, don't cry.

There, little girl, don't cry.
Though your Ec. you dare not shirk,
And the joys of Prom,
Cannot last so long
That they charm away all work.
The days of your cap and gown are nigh.
There, little girl, don't cry.

There, little girl, don't cry.
Alma Mater is proud, you see,
That in these four years,
Spite of doubts and fears,
You have nobly won your degree,
And the world is calling, your strength to try.
There, little girl, don't cry.

She whistled in the corridor when faculty were nigh;
 She giggled in the class room beneath the instructor's eye;
 She sprinted down the Fenway, and didn't wear a hat;
 She took the stairs three at a time; when others stood, she sat,
 And when she should have studied, to Coolidge she would roam.
 When Mid-years came—ah! breathe it low—
 They simply sent her home! Are you a Goop?

MID-YEAR EXAMS.

'Twas the night before mid-years, and all through the dorms,
Not a student was sleeping, and all the pale forms
Were rigid and sleepless with towels on heads,
While books and theme papers were strewn on the beds.
The hands of the clock hastened on. It struck ten,
Not a girl said "Good-night," or stopped studying then.
Leaves were turned and pens scratched, but no whisper was heard,
No sleepy yawn sounded, no proctor yet stirred.
The Seniors, the Juniors, the Sophomores and all
Were plugging and cramming, the length of each hall.
The lines of dear Taussig were read with great care,
Lest exams on the morrow should lead to despair.
And some studied Shorthand and some studied Chem,
Some worried their brains o'er a Math theorem,
Cataloguing and Cooking, History and Lit
Were imbibed by those weary minds bit by bit.
Our Profs were the only ones snug in their beds,
And no thoughts of exams came to bother their heads;
But each girl, as she studied, was sure of the glee
With which every Professor would mark her book E.
The clock then struck midnight, a few girls were through,
And soon the remainder all took the cue,
Until all had retired to sleep and to dream,
With Mid-year Exams as their principal theme.

They called this a cross-section, but its good natured enough with me!

A MOVIE FOR PSYCH STUDENTS

Working nights and working days
Ticking, ticking, tick!
Couldn't stand it very long,
Kicking, kicking, kick!

First erratic; then they stopped;
Not a single tick!
Every clock gone on a strike—
Now's our turn to kick!

Freshmen irresponsible—
Seldom otherwise.
Soph'mores irrepressible—
Laughter, shouts, and cries.

Juniors irresistible—
Give them but their due.
Seniors irreproachable—
Dignified way through.

A FRESHMAN'S PROGRESS AT SIMMONS

ADAPTED FROM Pilgrim's Progress

As I walked through the wilderness of this world, I alighted on a certain place where there was a Fen, and I laid me down in that place to sleep; and as I slept I dreamed a Dream,—behold I saw a weary Pilgrim, a Freshman, tottering under a load of Ignorance, a dog-eared book in her trembling hands. Hearing her utter a mournful sigh, I turned and asked her the reason for it. “The Dean at her discretion may place a student on probation and upon violation of the terms of the probation may report the case to the Administrative Board,” she sadly read.

Now there came one, by name Pliable, to persuade the Pilgrim to return to her home where Ignorance was not to be scorned, and to forsake the long, weary road leading to Knowledge. The Pilgrim was not to be turned from her course, and, indeed, persuaded Pliable to journey with her.

Now I saw in my Dream that just as they had ended this talk, they drew near to a very miry Slough of Despond—and the name of the Slough was Entrance Examinations. Here, therefore, they wallowed for a time and began to sink.

Then said Pliable, “Ah, Neighbor Pilgrim, where are you now?”

“Truly,” Freshman replied, “I do not know.”

Then Pliable, being covered with conditions in Algebra, French, History and Physics, became discouraged. She gave a desperate struggle or two, dragged herself out of the mire, cast aside the conditions forever and away she went, and the Pilgrim saw her no more.

Wherefore the Pilgrim was left to tumble in the Slough of Despond alone, but at last she came forth with but one condition,—Arithmetic. Being told that she might be relieved of this burden at some future stage of her journey, she was encouraged and went on her way.

So in process of time the Pilgrim arrived at the Entrance, where she was met by a grave personage who asked, “Who are you and what seek you here?” “I come from the City of Ignorance and am journeying to the Land of Wisdom,” Freshman replied. After presenting her recommendation, the Registration Fee, the way was opened up to her and she went in.

Inside she was met by the Interpreter,—the wise, experienced Senior Adviser,—who said, “Come, I will show you that which will be profitable to you.”

So the Interpreter showed her how the Guild welcomes and assists weary and discouraged Pilgrims. I saw, moreover, in my Dream that the Interpreter showed her a room where sat two Students,—the name of the one was the Right Way to Study, the conscientious, earnest one who had learned the wisdom of studying first and playing afterwards; and the name of the other was the Wrong Way to Study, the frivolous, careless one who whiled away her time, and hurried her studying into the last few drowsy moments before retiring.

19 15

Then said the Interpreter, "Keep all these things so in your mind that they may urge you forward in the way you should go."

So the Pilgrim was given an Enrollment Card to make her next adventure easier, and she went on her way.

Now I saw in my Dream that she came to the Class Room, where the Instructor gave her a Staff,—and the name of the Staff was High Standing. Then did the Burden of Ignorance become loosened from her shoulders and fall from her back. Freed from the Burden, she was glad and lightsome, and entered the Class Room with a merry heart.

Then did the Pilgrim come to the Hill, Difficulty, the regular routine of work. But the Hill was long and steep and she became very weary, so she sat herself down in an Arbor to rest. The name of the Arbor was Vacation Time. Thus pleasing herself awhile, she at last fell into a slumber, and thence into a fast sleep which detained her in that place until it was long past time to be on her way. Now as she was sleeping, there came one to her,—the Registrar—and awakening her she said, "Go to the Ant, thou sluggard, consider her ways and be wise," and she handed Pilgrim that dreaded object,—a Blue Card.

Now, when she had gone on a little farther she was met by Mid-year Examinations. Then she was afraid, and thought to go back, for she thought nothing but failure was before her. But then I saw in my Dream that after much struggling and resisting during which she was almost spent, she finally passed through the Combat, and regained her staff.

As she went on her way, she was met and encouraged by the Dean, who told her if she would persevere and have patience, she would at last come to the Land of Wisdom.

Now bid Farewell! All ye who stay!
To friends in Nineteen Fifteen.
This dear old class has had her day,
Each one now goes her own sweet way,
And soon must be forgotten.
But e'er we break the bonds in twain,
Let all join in the sad refrain:

EASY TEACHING MUSIC FOR THE PIANOFORTE IS OUR SPECIALTY

A postal card from you will bring our thematic catalogs of Easy Teaching Piano Music, Standard Songs, and EDITION WOOD to your studio or home. It also will place your name in our "MUSIC TEACHERS' BUREAU," through which department of our business you may receive sample copies of new teaching pieces as issued.

All music dealers will supply you with your needs. Ask your regular dealer to send you a Selection Package "on approval." If he cannot do so, we will arrange it for you

A Quiet Little Spread.

Nothing has more charm for college girls than the very exclusive little spreads enjoyed in their rooms at night, and they tell us they serve on these occasions because it can be made into a great variety of just such dainty dishes as they like best, and "anybody can fix it in a minute."

JELL-O

For big dinners and for little spreads Jell-O is alike suitable.

It can be made into so great a variety of dishes that one for any occasion can be prepared from it.

A beautiful new Recipe Book, with brilliantly colored pictures by Rose Cecil O'Neill, author and illustrator of "The Kewpies," will be sent free to all who write and ask us for it.

There are seven Jell-O flavors, all pure fruit flavors, as follows: Strawberry, Raspberry, Lemon, Orange, Cherry, Peach, Chocolate.

10 cents a package at any grocer's or any general store.

THE GENESEE PURE FOOD CO., Le Roy, N. Y., and Bridgeburg, Can.

The name JELL-O is on every package in big red letters. If it isn't there, it isn't JELL-O.
